Vierge Montagne

A timeless and influencing feeling, lined up with notes...
A gentle breeze caressing your skin when you are at the closest point to the scorching heat of the sun, in a unique, powerful, country garden almost at the top of a mountain... The richness of the fruits that hit your nose with that wind, the richness of jasmine and violet while it combines with its naivety, it ends with the strikingness of amber.

Credo Athena

Credo Athena is a reflection of the transition to an orientalist consistency inspired by the warmth of floral notes. The exotic reflection of the harmony of orchid, lily and hyacinth naivety with each other, and the striking hit of patchouli and vanilla... Credo Athena, whose notes are almost addictive and you will feel it to your marrow...
